Chapter 1: On the Ascendant

Ascendant in Scorpio:

As a couple, you can either be the devil bringing destruction and ruin, or angels bestowing blessings on your fellow human beings. Those are the only two options here, and there are no in-betweens. You will be extremely courageous, strong willed, sensitive, and emotionally deep inside. The capacity you have to overcome any obstacle or adversity that comes to you is unequaled by any other sign, especially the more time that you spend together.

Neither of you are easy to understand due to your complex makeup. No one would ever say that you don't go after what you want, even if what you want is no good for you, that is beside the point. You do so in a quiet and unassuming way and usually get what you want. You live life to the fullest and dislike people who are superficial. Life has a certain passion and intensity that loves a good challenge, fight, or dare to do the unmentionable no matter where it may take you. For you the struggles in life and the pain it brings are normal daily occurrences and you take them in stride.

Psychic abilities and insights into other people's motives along with knowledge of the hidden side of their personality are a natural gift you share together. You are not wishy-washy about people, so when you meet someone you go on first impressions, and how they feel to you. You go through life using an on board radar that defies explanation, as if you could, and that is the way it was meant to be.

Whether it is a career, love, relationships, decisions, hunches, jealousy or hatred, you do so together with your whole heart. You have a special kinship to the animal world and I would be surprised not to see dogs and cats scattered around the property. You seem to communicate with pets on a much different level than you do with your fellow humans. You are intensely loyal in your relationship and your partner had better understand that before they get involved or they will suffer the wrath of your revenge. Look to the house where Pluto is located to see where you are apt to go through tremendous changes together.

Ascendant is in Scorpio, Cancer Decanate

Ruled by the Moon, together you are much more sympathetic and kind to your fellow man or woman. You will be VERY psychically tuned in and sensitive with this aspect. You can appear tough on the outside but that just covers the marshmallow inside. Romance and inventiveness brings a magnetic personality out, that you never knew existed before. Recognize and deal with the explosive emotional aspects of your personality that can easily erupt as well.

Chapter 2: On the Midheaven: How you are seen as a couple

Midheaven in Virgo:

Since this is the most "visible" part of the composite chart, it represents how you are actually seen in the world by others. It represents your more outward or public face and where you are likely to encounter success, and your reputation in the world as a couple. Your mutual goals together will keep you very active, perhaps overactive. You are somewhat self centered, and it would not be wise to criticize your fellow man. You will acquire a restless nature and become super nervous people.

You are tranquil and shy together and are most content when you are working in the background of any organization rather than on the firing line where all kinds of nastiness goes on. Because of this you would excel in any area where details need to be finished up. Jobs that would bore other people to death are fine with you, just as long as you can work in peace. Careers dealing with clothing, restaurants, or medical are your cup of tea.

Any situation that involves quick responses will not find you around in close proximity, because you approach everything cautiously while estimating any dangers involved or benefits that can be gained.

Your manners and mannerisms together are always correct and above board. Your quiet and unemotional viewpoints are immediately apparent because you do not spread sympathy and caring although you may be. You come across ready for business and display a conservative approach to everything and everybody. You will draw people to you who need honest assessments of situations or special advice. This is your area of expertise. You never miss anything that goes on in your environment whether at home or at the office and are always looking to learn something new.

The tenth house is the home of worldly aspirations and attainment. This sector shows how you present yourself to the public, and deeds for which you leave behind as your legacy, or what you will be remembered for. The tenth has domain over the profession, public offices held, and your reputation. The combined energy of Virgo here, indicates that work and service for others is your key to success. The written word, organizing for other people or making observations for other people are your fields of expertise together, although you can be somewhat critical. You can become bored very easily, and need a career that keeps you intellectually stimulated. Careers in large organizations, federal government, education or churches could use your organizational abilities. Look to the house where Mercury is located to see what kind of career you might choose, or how you will be remembered.

Chapter 3: Planets and Aspects

Sun in 12th house:

The Sun located in the 12th house brings challenges that most people find very difficult to deal with. In this relationship many facets of your personalities that you would rather keep private will be revealed. Your relationship itself may be hidden from view of others or they may not know it exists at all. In fact, if they do know it exists, they will not understand what it is all about. Unless the two of you are very honest with each other right from the start and disclose any and all secrets, then this will only serve to undermine your entire relationship. Any dishonesty will cause your relationship to break up, thus ruining any chance of growth within the relationship. It may be very important that you do not enter into legal marriage until all psychological patterns have been worked out because once they surface, separations and breakups can be devastating. This is an especially sensitive position of the Sun and it calls for you to be careful.

Sun Conjunct Mercury

Your relationship may not be so much an emotional relationship as it is an intellectual one. Yours is perhaps a relationship where you can exchange thoughts and ideas, study, research, spend hours in conversation and enjoy mental stimulation rather than physical. For you, sex takes place mentally rather than physically. Rather than having an emotional rapport, you may be more detached and logical in your relationship.

Your conversations will be excellent and since you have so much in common, you probably think the same ways about life in general. You will have no trouble understanding what the other person is talking about. There are very meaningful discussions indicated here and should you be involved in creative or business ventures together, then this aspect is an added boost for the conception of new ideas.

You can feel very close to each other with this aspect, without feeling vulnerable, and doing your "own thing" will be a prerequisite for the two of you. Trips and travel, whether local or long distance, are also part of this aspect. Sitting still may be difficult for you both.

Sun Conjunct Venus

This aspect signifies that you just plainly love each other. The attraction is so strong between you that even though you may be incompatible by other standards, you still feel like being with your partner because of that love you feel for them. It's not that they won't occasionally drive you nuts - they will. It's just that the bottom line is that there is real love between you and there is no stronger emotion in the universe.

By being together you can create beauty and form as well as appreciate art and music. Your home can easily be filled with "treasures" that reflect the talents you have. But as always with Venus, be careful of overindulging in the good things of life so they do not become a noose around your neck instead of an object of desire. Remember, the more things you have, the more trouble you are likely to have. You will not mind showing off what you have accrued together, but vanity can become an undesired side effect of this aspect if it is not kept in check.

Avoid hiding any difficulties in your relationship and bring them out in the open so they can be resolved or at least recognized in order to avoid major problems down the road. You may also be drawn to speculative ventures with this aspect, so just remember to be practical in your expenditures.

With this configuration, no matter what difficulties come along to challenge you, you will always feel a need and desire to make peace, reconcile and create harmony and cooperation in your relationship. This aspect offers a great stability that will keep you from turning against each other, unless the obstacles become totally overwhelming.

A great deal of time and effort can be put into social activities and if you are involved in creative ventures together, then this aspect adds support and form to your ideas.

Sun Trine Jupiter

Jupiter brings substantial advantage, growth, progress, success and increase into your lives. Good fortune, achievement and blessings will arrive in ways that cannot be measured, simply by your being together. It can never be said that you want for anything with this aspect and, instead of limitations being placed upon you, opportunities never imagined can come your way. Higher thoughts of expression and philosophical and religious pursuits may become part of your daily life. Expanding your education or beliefs can be possible through this relationship.

You make each other happy just by being together and the world becomes a much more satisfying place for you because of your togetherness. Travel, especially the long distance kind, or connections to people of different cultures may also play an important part in your lives.

Success in all endeavors is indicated by this aspect. You may notice considerable financial improvement and the happiness you share will rub off on others as you seek to improve their lives as well. Sharing the good life may take its toll in the weight department, though, because Jupiter loves to expand whatever he touches, the old waist line included. You may also enjoy some surprising results with lotteries and speculations. as long as you don't over do it.

As a couple you will enjoy popularity and any legal matters that happen to arise will probably be settled much more in your favor with benefic Jupiter here.

The biggest danger with this aspect is that you may get carried away with all the bounty and benefits bestowed and overindulge yourselves beyond your means. False pride and showing off can also happen with this aspect, so keep an eye out for that.

Sun Trine Uranus

By virtue of the energy given by this aspect, there will be many changes introduced into both your lives. This configuration adds adventure, unconventional behavior, experimentation and new thoughts, ideas and philosophies into your lives. You will respect the other's need for space and freedom and although other people may look at you as though you have taken a left turn out of reality, this relationship will be comfortable for you. Although there will be many sudden and unusual happenings, you have the ability to deal with them in a positive way and thus grow from these lessons.

Together you will experience new ideas and concepts and your lives together will be full, with no expectations other than the joy of just being together. You will find that your relationship gives you both new understandings into the workings of the world, thus opening you up to new ways of self-expression.

The wheel of good fortune can easily find you and it may bring you advancement, creative endeavors, widening social circles, greater popularity, an adventure or two, and perhaps some profitable speculations. This relationship will signal an important turning point in your lives, especially if you are looking for something totally different and new.

There is an added responsibility that comes with this aspect and it is called honesty. Honesty not only with each other, but within yourselves so that you will keep your lives on track with each other, while yet, at the same time, allowing you to explore friendships with others outside your own personal relationship. You will encourage each other to be free, uninhibited, and perhaps at times somewhat detached or impersonal because you are secure in your lives together. You push each other to be self-reliant, individualistic and free-thinking.

Sun Semisquare Saturn

This aspect is an indication that by being together you will share very powerful learning experiences which should not be taken lightly. Yours may very well be a fated and unavoidable relationship as well. Your relationship may be short-termed or long, but understand that Sun/Saturn bonds are not easily broken and they tend to bind you together for good or ill.

Your relationship together will expose facets of your personalities that you were unaware of and that you may not want to face. If you can take this opportunity to learn and grow, then you will discover a great deal about your faults and weaknesses. And the only way to overcome your weaknesses is to squarely face them and resolve to correct what needs correcting.

If you are looking for a foot-loose and fancy-free relationship, then don't enter into this one because you are likely to feel like a dog on a leash, and a short one at that. Limitations and confinement surround this aspect and unless you are looking for a little discipline, then it would be better to leave that to the boot camp drill instructor. Make no mistake, with this aspect there will be times when you feel you are restrained and confined just like in prison.

On a positive note, if you have been irresponsible and immature, then this relationship will show you the error of your ways and how you can improve. There is nothing like a little maturity to help us be better people. If your experience together is needed as part of a master plan, then you may very well have a long association. If not, then your relationship may be short-lived.

You may very well blame each other for all of the difficulties within your relationship. Each of you may see the other as the controller, the manipulator, the disapproving authority figure, the judge and jury, the stick in the mud who has no sense of humor at all. Constant duties, obligations and responsibilities may sap all the life out of your being together, yet you may continue to do them as though you were driven by some slave driver. This aspect does give a sense of security and that sense should not be taken lightly.

Personal one-on-one attachment, affection, fondness and tenderness will be lost to responsibility and hard work. This might be good in a working business partnership, but in a close personal relationship feelings will probably suffer.

You can expect a great deal of struggle, hardship and having to overcome adversity at every turn. One of you may very well become a great burden to the other in some way, thus helping them or yourself to mature and become more self-reliant.

Financial hardships, possible chronic health, oppression, obligations, and restrictions sum up the balance of this configuration. Yet this aspect does give you the power to endure and to overcome.

Moon in fourth house:

The Moon has rulership over the emotions and when placed in the 4th house it indicates a very strong emotional bond has brought you together and that you share a common background or experiences. Together you will share a real emotional security, and this is probably why you are together in the first place. One way this may manifest is through joint ownership of real estate or a home where you can feel complete. This is a very fortunate placement for marriage or living together because of the ability to share. From time to time you should face any real issues and differences that you have with each other, as your relationship is strong enough to handle it. Any situation where you can set up a housekeeping atmosphere together is excellent with the Moon in the 4th.

Moon Square Mars

Unless you are very careful, this relationship, that no doubt began like a bomb bursting in air, can end in disaster. The intensity and volatility between you is such that it can burn you up and consume you completely. Even if anger is not a part of your separate make-ups, this relationship may bring it out in both of you. This aspect tends to bring some really difficult confrontations and at times you will really aggravate and irritate each other, sometimes to the point of wanting to smack them up side the head. This, of course, would be totally ill-advised. If a fighting spirit is what you need and what you are looking for, then you have found the right partner. Just be sure to put your energies into something constructive rather than using them to "destroy" your partner.

In the best of times there will be uncontrollable passion, love that cries out for the night. In the worst of times there will be outbursts, temper tantrums and other emotional storms and if these are not held in check, they could lead to violence. Yours can be an extremely competitive relationship and a very selfish one as well, if you are not careful. If you are looking for stability in a relationship, then this aspect will not support your wishes. What this aspect does give is intensity. Should the rest of the chart support a loving, caring and stable relationship, then this aspect will give you a little zing for added measure.

Moon Square Uranus

This relationship has nothing to do with being settled, secure or boring. Once you begin to feel comfortable, then look out, because the bottom is surely getting ready to fall out from under you. This relationship may be quite upsetting or exciting, probably at the same time, depending on your individual backgrounds and how you handle change. Can you live with insecurity and unpredictable behavior? If so, then hang on for the ride of your lives.

Yours is likely destined to be an untraditional relationship, where the rules and expectations you were brought up with will not apply. An alternative sexual and emotional expression, an open instead of monogamous lifestyle or some other radically different mode of life is possible. If you are looking to change your life and your lifestyle, then go for this relationship! In time you may find that this is an on-again, off-again type of arrangement which never settles into anything permanent. Regardless, the best way to approach this aspect is to give your partner a lot of breathing room, keep your expectations to a minimum, enjoy the ride for as long as it lasts, and keep an open mind for new and different things about which to learn.

Moon Sesquiquadrate Pluto

This may not be an easy, satisfying or peaceful relationship. Great depths of feeling, emotional struggles and frustration summarize this aspect. The purpose of your relationship is to draw out the emotional and intuitive difficulties from past conditioning and finally come to terms with them.

Impulsive and compulsive behavior traits may manifest with at least one of you and you must be very careful not to use ploys such as guilt, abuse, manipulation, jealousy and especially emotional blackmail to get what you want from the other. You may have to contend with extreme emotions of attachment, possessiveness, dependency and feelings that you simply cannot live without the other.

You must be completely honest with each other if you are going to make this relationship work. One thing is for sure, this is going to be one of the most powerful and intense relationships you will ever experience. Yes, it will seem that this relationship is somehow fated and that the Fates have drawn you together like a magnet for some strange purpose. Old emotional hurts, wounds, grief or jealousy may be brought out into the open so that you have a chance to transform them into something better. And who better to help you do that than an old friend from by-gone days, one who has the intensity to perform such a great work.

Mercury in 12th house:

Mercury is the planet of communication and mental activity. When located in the 12th house you will find that you get into some very deep psychological discussions about your relationship. These communications are pretty much confined to the limits of your relationship and remain unrevealed to the outside world. People may view your actions as very secretive, especially the ways in which you communicate with each other. Any problems that your relationship is having will be worked out "in-house", away from the eyes and ears of others. Be careful not to continually probe into every little facet of each other's lives as this can damage your relationship. Do not play games or try to manipulate your partner's life. There is also the danger here that you will keep secrets from each other and, after some time, this may make you very suspicious of the other.

Mercury Conjunct Venus

Communication will be a strong suit between the two of you, especially regarding objects of beauty, music, art, love and romance. Both of you share common interests in these and other related areas.

You will enjoy telling each other how you feel and you prefer doing so in the written form of cards and letters. At best you will avoid anything that is too ponderous, choosing to keep your conversations light and loving.

If there are arguments at all, you both will make them as sweet as possible so that you don't offend the other. You are sensitive to your partner's feelings and you will say what needs to be said, but in a way that doesn't hurt the other. This aspect helps smooth out any rough edges in your relationship.

Mercury Square Pluto

Communication may be centered on digging out the truth in each other's life and uncovering things about the other you would not dream to tell anyone else. You will cause each other to transform thoughts, feelings, beliefs and desires that have been buried for a very long time. This relationship will also have you questioning things that up until now were better off left alone. Because of this potent power you must be careful of manipulating your partner for your own purposes or trying to control their life and the way they think. Do not use the power of this aspect for psychological manipulation, brainwashing or for taking advantage of your partner's weaknesses and vulnerabilities.

Together you may choose to delve into the occult or to use the power of mind over matter. Just make sure the dark side does not win you over. If you get carried away in any of these areas, people may perceive you as a threat and bring danger to you. Should you heed the above warnings, then you can gain some very important truths about life, the universe and yourselves.

Mercury Trine Jupiter

This relationship should be a real education for you. Your being together will either help you explore views of the world that you may have never seen before or it will offer new intellectual stimulus for learning something new.

Whether your relationship is for social or business purposes, this aspect is wonderful and beneficial to you both. There is an added hope and optimism in you that magnifies all of your good qualities and, in the long run, you will be very good for each other. At the same time you may also find that religious or theological expansion is a very important part of your lives as you delve deeper into the mysteries of life.

This aspect gives you both a greater tolerance and acceptance of your partner's ideas and attitudes. It makes mutual communication much more pleasant and you will grow intellectually because of the friendly environment in which you feel you can exchange viewpoints and opinions.

Mercury Semisquare Mars

Heated debates, mental sparring and even some down-and-dirty arguments are sure to play a major role in your relationship. There will be no beating around the bush here, as you try to "tell" your partner what you are thinking, rather than explaining it. Disputes, frustration and verbal abuse can be the result of these communications, not so much because you differ in opinion, but because of the ways in which you express yourself to your partner.

Right from the start this relationship might feel like the Battle of Gettysburg as you come under verbal attack and are criticized about every little thing that is important or that which has absolutely no importance at all. Unless you both work on being nicer to each other, this is going to be a very difficult relationship in the communication department. And that will, of course, spill over to all the other areas in your relationship.

There is the tendency here to fight for fighting's sake and your partner always seems to be the closest opponent and the nearest punching bag. You will both need to develop more patience and self-control because each of you has the tendency to be too sensitive to your partner's little irritating habits.

Venus in 12th house:

Venus is the planet of love and affection but when located in the 12th house you may tend to keep these feelings hidden or else you may not be able to express them. The people in your environment may not be aware that you have feelings for each other. Venus in the 12th house is an indication of a secret relationship. This is a wonderful position of Venus for overcoming any ego differences within your relationship as it allows you to give way to the other without feeling vulnerable. You will be able to work together as a unit rather than as individuals, thus adding strength and support to your relationship.

Venus Trine Jupiter

Jupiter, the great benefactor and lord of luck and prosperity, brings great happiness and fruitfulness to your relationship. There should be an abundant supply of optimism, happiness, security, good fortune, cheerfulness and faith that will see you through the most difficult of times. Generosity, caring, encouraging the other to grow and sharing yourselves and your good fortune with the rest of the world should be a part of your daily lives. You honestly care about your partner and there is nothing forced or contrived regarding those feelings. Love comes naturally, without any pretense. Your home will be open to friends and family without the other partner feeling left out or unappreciated.

Venus Trine Uranus

This is sure to be one of the most "different" relationships you will ever experience. It will probably be very open and unconventional in some way, perhaps sexually. where all of the standards of behavior that you learned in the past go right out the window. There may be differences between you in family backgrounds, upbringing, age or race, and people may be quite surprised that you are together at all. Your relationship may be considered one of those that "breaks all the rules".

You are sure to have more than your share of friends that stand out in a crowd, some who are a bit odd or unusual, as well those who are creative. The arts, music, swimming, skating or dance will hold your interest and you will enjoy sharing these things together. This relationship can be very rich in opportunities to learn things you might never learn on your own and it would be well for you to be flexible and adaptable in your reaction to them. Give your partner plenty of space and freedom to take from these experiences whatever it is they feel they need.

Venus Semisquare Saturn

Your relationship is sure to hit some major snags and obstacles that may prevent you from ever coming together in the first place. This is not an aspect that signifies a hot and immediate attraction between you, in fact, just the opposite is true - it may have taken you both a longer time to warm up to each other. Perhaps duty and circumstantial need brought you together. There may always be feelings of insecurity and doubt between you. The best thing to do is to drop the expectations you have for each other and simply take what comes. You will have your share of moments when you feel that your partner has abandoned you, is not caring toward you or simply lacks an appreciation for what you bring into the relationship. In order to be successful in this relationship you will need to positively address your feelings of insecurity and mistrust.

Mars in 2nd house:

Mars, the planet of activity, signifies that your relationship will involve acquiring things, although not necessarily holding on to them for long. As a couple you will tend to be risk takers, spending on impulse or taking chances with your possessions. The problem is that one or both of you may spend without the other's knowledge, disagree on purchases or disagree on what to do with your possessions. Even in a more stable relationship, this problem with handling money can be a threat to the harmony in the relationship. Use caution in your spending because when an important purchase comes along, you may find the money has disappeared or is just not available.

Mars Square Saturn

If you are looking for a relationship where you can be wild and crazy, then this isn't the one. Everything you do in this relationship will be very methodical, planned, controlled and mechanical and the ways in which you express yourselves will be the same way. The principle of this aspect is blocked action. Resentment and hostility may build if you hold back any anger or frustration. At times you will feel stifled and limited in how you can express yourselves. Little irritations can build up until they get to the point where they may explode. Try to handle situations as they arise and be as honest as possible, because if you aren't, your physical sexuality will be the final frontier, never to be visited. At times you can be very cold in your expression of affection and caring to each other. Or you may find frustration and disappointment in your relationship when one of you is amorous and the other takes on the qualities of ice. Withholding sex can be a form of manipulation, control or punishment. One of you may very well act as judge and jury for everything the other does.

There may be considerable challenges, obstacles, battles and frustrations for you to overcome in your relationship. Any problems in this relationship may last a very long time and only through great patience, perseverance and healthy communication will you be able to work through them.

Jupiter in 3rd house:

Jupiter in the 3rd shows that everyday activities will be many, and through these activities your thought patterns will expand and change in very favorable ways. Old and rigid systems of thinking will transform to new understandings of yourself and the world around you. Jupiter is not a planet that brings change through frustration or difficulties, instead it brings growth and opportunities through travel, religion or belief systems, law, sales, philosophy and education. Due to a greater interest in religion and philosophy, you may act as your own psychotherapists. Anything that broadens your horizons or helps you break free from old habits is favored.

Jupiter Trine Uranus

If you love adventure, exploring, experimenting and discovering everything about life and each other, then this is a nice relationship for you. The two of you together can be quite creative and innovative and these qualities can help your relationship from becoming stale. At the same time, though, there may still be some amount of restlessness which is best dealt with by giving each other some elbow room when they need it. Together, you will be much more impulsive in doing new and wacky things that you never would have tried before.

Tremendous good luck and good fortune, arriving quite out of the blue, just when you need it, may come with this combination. You may attribute this to being at the right place at the right time.

Saturn in 10th house:

Saturn located in the 10th house of business and career indicates that any goals you set as a couple will be very important to you and that your reputations will be flawless if you work very hard to be honest and moral in all issues. As a team you will work very long and hard to make your goals a reality. Saturn in this position can put a great strain on both of you because you may feel the world is ganging up against you. Success is not going to be immediate, but rather a slow and steady progress. Don't try to take any shortcuts in the process. Saturn guarantees that if you try to cheat the system or do not plan carefully, then misfortune will catch up with you down the road. This is not a bad position for Saturn, but it does require a lot of responsibility and discipline to bring success.

Saturn Sextile Asc.

This aspect brings stability to your relationship and helps to keep it on an even course. Saturn prevents tremendous emotional highs and lows from occurring, thus steadying both of you. Even though this aspect is positive, it tends to indicate that your relationship lacks spontaneity and enthusiasm. Your relationship is likely to be more serious and practical and void of romantic fantasy. On a positive note, you can help to discipline each other's weaknesses, thus bringing honesty and restraint into both your lives. This can be a relationship that helps you break free from impulsive and irresponsible tendencies. You may also find that this relationship does not allow you to express yourselves. Perhaps both of you are too rigid in your thinking and in your actions. Communication between you may not be your strong point, but this aspect should bring no harm to it. Instead you will tend to stay focused on practical issues, perhaps at the cost of everyday chit-chat.

Uranus in 8th house:

Uranus placed in the 8th house is sure to transform your relationship in some very strange and unusual ways, especially in the areas of sex and resources like property, finances and joint possessions. Abrupt change and disruption may occur in these areas, but it is not something to fear. In fact, the more you fight it, the worse the impact will be on you. Change brings growth, growth brings transformation, and your relationship may need both to survive. Old attitudes will pass away with new ones born in their place. On the other side of the coin, you may view money, possessions and finances as a burden rather than an opportunity. Pay attention to your material affairs, learn to deal with your financial responsibilities or find ways to lessen their effect on you.

Neptune in 10th house:

Neptune is the master of fantasy, illusion, delusion, idealism, deception and spirituality. With Neptune in the 10th house, make sure you see your relationship clearly for what it really is and not what other people perceive it as being. Neptune presents a wonderful illusion which in the long run may have nothing to do with reality. Your relationship will always "seem" proper because that is the appearance you allow others to see. But if they knew what it really was, they might be shocked and disappointed. There may be a lack of clarity of what is going on in the relationship or what your purpose for being together is. On the positive side, there is the possibility that the purpose of your relationship is quite clear. This is because of the spiritual aspect of Neptune which can transcend normal relationship standards and take your relationship to metaphysical levels. If this is the case, then Neptune may have you making sacrifices for the greater good of your relationship. Neptune in the 10th can also indicate you are involved professionally in the metaphysical or spiritual fields.

Neptune Sextile Pluto

Matters of spirituality, psychic awareness or communication, supernatural forces and mind-reading will be very strong interests in your lives and it may be impossible to deny or to get away from them. There may be times that you can actually hear what the other person is thinking without ever having to say anything. You might decide to play the role of psychic detectives, uncovering mysteries or hidden things. You enjoy anything that has to do with mind expansion or mind alteration.

Pluto in 9th house:

Pluto is the planet of death and rebirth, regeneration, digging down to get the bare facts, obsession, power and fanaticism. You are bound to have a very powerful effect on each other just by being in the same vicinity. This position of Pluto will also have that same powerful effect on others in your environment when you are together. Pluto in its obsession tends to make people fanatically believe whatever point of view they have. Pluto usually corresponds to the egos involved and if you are overbearing to begin with, then this powerful energy can either win people over to your side or make you their enemies, as they see you as a threat. This position of Pluto can provoke people to cause you harm physically if you don't put a lid on it and know when to back off. You can actually wind up doing this to each other as well, so caution is advised in how you use this energy. If you can keep this "power" under control, then you may gain a psychic rapport into the basis of your relationship, an unspoken understanding that only the two of you can comprehend. Use this energy to make positive changes in your relationship because as you do, you will transform the people around you as well.

Chapter 5: Other Issues in Your Relationship

Sagittarius on 2nd house cusp

As a couple, with Sagittarius on the second house cusp you will not have to worry about being reserved, cheap or secretive in financial affairs. You will be generous, willing to share what you have with people in need. For you, your interest in finances extends only to taking care of your needs and sharing, therefore you may not accumulate very much because of your extravagant natures. The two of you are likely to draw success and finances to you because of your naturally lucky personalities. Together you are likely to take risks and suffer some financial losses from time to time. Look to the house containing Jupiter for some insight as to where money can be made. There might be some travel associated with the money that you make as well.

Aquarius on 3rd house cusp

With Aquarius on the third house of communication and learning, the two of you will share quite an inventive, original and creative outlook on life. Your communications can be very fixed and inflexible, but your thinking may be well ahead of its time, with perhaps radical overtones. As a couple new and different ideas can occur daily, pushing you to explore something new and untried. Your interest in learning is for the sake of knowledge, not for earning the almighty dollar, and passing what you have learned along to others. You need to give each other breathing room, so that you can communicate more freely and spontaneously. Look to the house where Uranus is located to see where your interests can be found.

Pisces on 4th house cusp

With Pisces on the fourth house of the home, family, roots, real estate, property and security, the two of you will have a strong emotional tie to the home and family unit. Pictures showing family history, and sentimental memorabilia will fill the home, and great sacrifices will be made for home, family and each other. Emotional upsets at home will not be appreciated as you need peace and seclusion to operate, and privacy will be especially important for both of you. Both of you will be extremely sensitive to not only the home, but the environment within the home because of the spiritual value of Neptune, ruler of Pisces here. For you both, the home is a place that you can depend on for an escape from everyday life to slip into your own private world. Look to the house where Neptune is located to see where your home security can be found.

Aries on 5th house cusp

As a couple, you have Aries on the fifth house of Children, recreation, romance, creativity, artistic abilities, hobbies, writing books (creatively), speculation and investments. Together you are aggressive in life, and don't mind spending money to be happy in your leisure activities. This energy is best devoted to outdoor and competitive activity, associated with physical exercise. Working with and for young people is favored although you can be quite short in your expectations of them, and impatient with their progress. Look to the house where Mars/Pluto is located to see where you might find your recreation and romance potential.

Taurus on 6th house cusp

The two of you have Taurus on the cusp of the sixth house of Work, Work environment, responsibilities, health, work and service for others, relationships with employees and co-workers, and your interest in physical fitness. Together you are practical, determined, conservative and responsible, having your goals in real focus. You must enjoy the work that you do, or you will not be happy with yourself or each other. You may work as teachers or counselor for others because it gives you security and time for your other interests. Taurus is ruled by Venus, which can have a lazy side at times, and any job that is too demanding will find you rebelling in favor of the easy life. Look to the house where Venus is located to see where you might find work or service to others.

Taurus on 7th house cusp

Relationships, partnerships, marriage, people you have close associations with, cooperation or lack of, contracts, and legal matters are all part of the seventh house, and Taurus is located here. The two of you will be loyal but jealous and possessive marriage partners. You may have come together after being together for a long time, and the process of marriage came about after careful scrutiny. Stubbornness exists in this relationship, and some stormy days can be expected. Material benefits can easily come to this marriage, and security not extravagance is the key to success. Look to the house that contains Venus to see how you will deal with partnerships.

Gemini on 8th house cusp

The eighth house deals with joint resources. Possessions that are not earned directly by you, but obtained through the relationship, wills, or pensions. It also has to do with money belonging to others such as taxes, corporate money, insurance, and the stock market. The eighth house also relates to the mysteries of life and sex. Gemini will have an influence on the above matters in this relationship by discussing matters by the hour until you uncover every last detail of what is before you. The two of you always have some pretty good ideas how you should invest or spend money, and the bigger the challenge the better. Look to see which house Mercury is located in. to see where your joint money can be found.

Leo on 9th house cusp

The ninth house is the house of long range goals and long distance travel. Religion, philosophy and higher education are ninth house matters. With Leo ruling the ninth house, the two of you will be confident and successful at implementing new ideas together. There is great vitality of spirit indicated, and travel will fill an emotional need for you both. Matters connected to education, religion, spiritual endeavors, philosophic thought will be important for you both as well. Together you can act as teachers in some way, and be a source of inspiration for others to follow. Look to the house where the Sun is located to see where your interests in higher aspirations can be found.

Libra on 11th house cusp

The eleventh house has domain over achievement of goals and objectives, and hopes and wishes. Humanitarian efforts, clubs, groups, associations, sharing ideals are also associated with the eleventh house. People that support your efforts, friends and connections to the outside world can be found in this house. With Libra located in the eleventh house, the focus of this relationship turns to working with friends in group associations. You can work as the head of a group together, and as a couple you will be highly visible in social situations. Look to the house where Venus is located to see where you might find your friends, associations and group involvements and interests.

Scorpio on 12th house cusp

The twelfth house rules the subconscious mind, problems arising from unseen causes, and limitations in our lives. This house has rulership over behind the scenes activities, emotional problems, secrets, deceptions, problems to overcome, the side of ourselves away from public view, where the soul can step back and take a look at the world around us. The twelfth house also has rulership over prisons, hospitals, and other institutions that would remove you from society. Scorpio energy on the twelfth house for you both indicates that you are very closed off, guarded and secretive, especially in spiritual and mystical matters. Your ability to influence the lives of others occurs in subtle and unspoken ways. Look to the house where Pluto is located to find that area in which you retire from public view.
